GOVERNMENT

The Palm Beach County Home Rule Charter became effective in 1985. True Home Rule gives the Board of County Commissioners (BCC) the ability to create, through a local public hearing ordinance procedure, local laws that are not in conflict with or specifically prohibited by state general law or the state constitution. This process is done without going to the Florida Legislature to request special legislation.

The seven-member BCC is the legislative governing body of Palm Beach County. Commissioners are elected to staggered four-year terms by voters in the district in which they reside and can only serve two terms. The BCC elects a mayor and vice mayor annually.

The BCC meets in the Jane M. Thompson Memorial Chambers on the sixth floor of the Robert Weisman Palm Beach County Governmental Center, 301 N. Olive Avenue, West Palm Beach 33401. BCC meetings and workshops are held Tuesday mornings at 9:30 a.m. The meetings are cablecast on the county's government television

The central administrative office is located at 301 N. Olive Ave., West Palm Beach.

PBC TV Channel 20, and they are also streamed live on pbcgov.com/CH20 and social media. For the meeting schedule, visit pbcgov.com.

The public may offer comments to the board during “Matters by the Public” which usually occurs in the afternoon. At that time, residents can address the board on any issue under its jurisdiction. Anyone who wishes to speak is required to complete a Public Comment Card. Visit pbcgov.com for more information or call 355-3229.

The mission of the Commission on Ethics (COE) is to foster integrity in public services, to promote the public’s trust and confidence, and to prevent conflicts between private interests and public duties. The COE reviews, interprets, renders advisory opinions on, and enforces the Palm Beach County Code of Ethics, and lobbyist registration and post-employment ordinances. To file a complaint, call the ethics hotline at 355-1915 (or 877-766-5920) or use the online Ethics Complaint Form.

The major source of fresh water for South Florida is underground aquifers that are replenished by rainwater soaking down through the soil. Rainfall can vary greatly from year to year, and reduced rainfall means less water reaches the aquifers. Therefore, during drought conditions, it is very important to conserve water and follow water-use restrictions. The South Florida Water Management District oversees water resources in the southern parts of the state.
