Overview of Economic Stability/Mobility

Natalie Vazquez, Senior Program Manager, CSD

Stability

- Designed to ensure households (with and without children) remain stable in their homes with the emergency support provided. This emergency support is not intended to be long-term programming or case management but rather to provide short-term activities to stabilize the household financially. This could include providing emergency payments or managing a day-labor or migrant worker program.

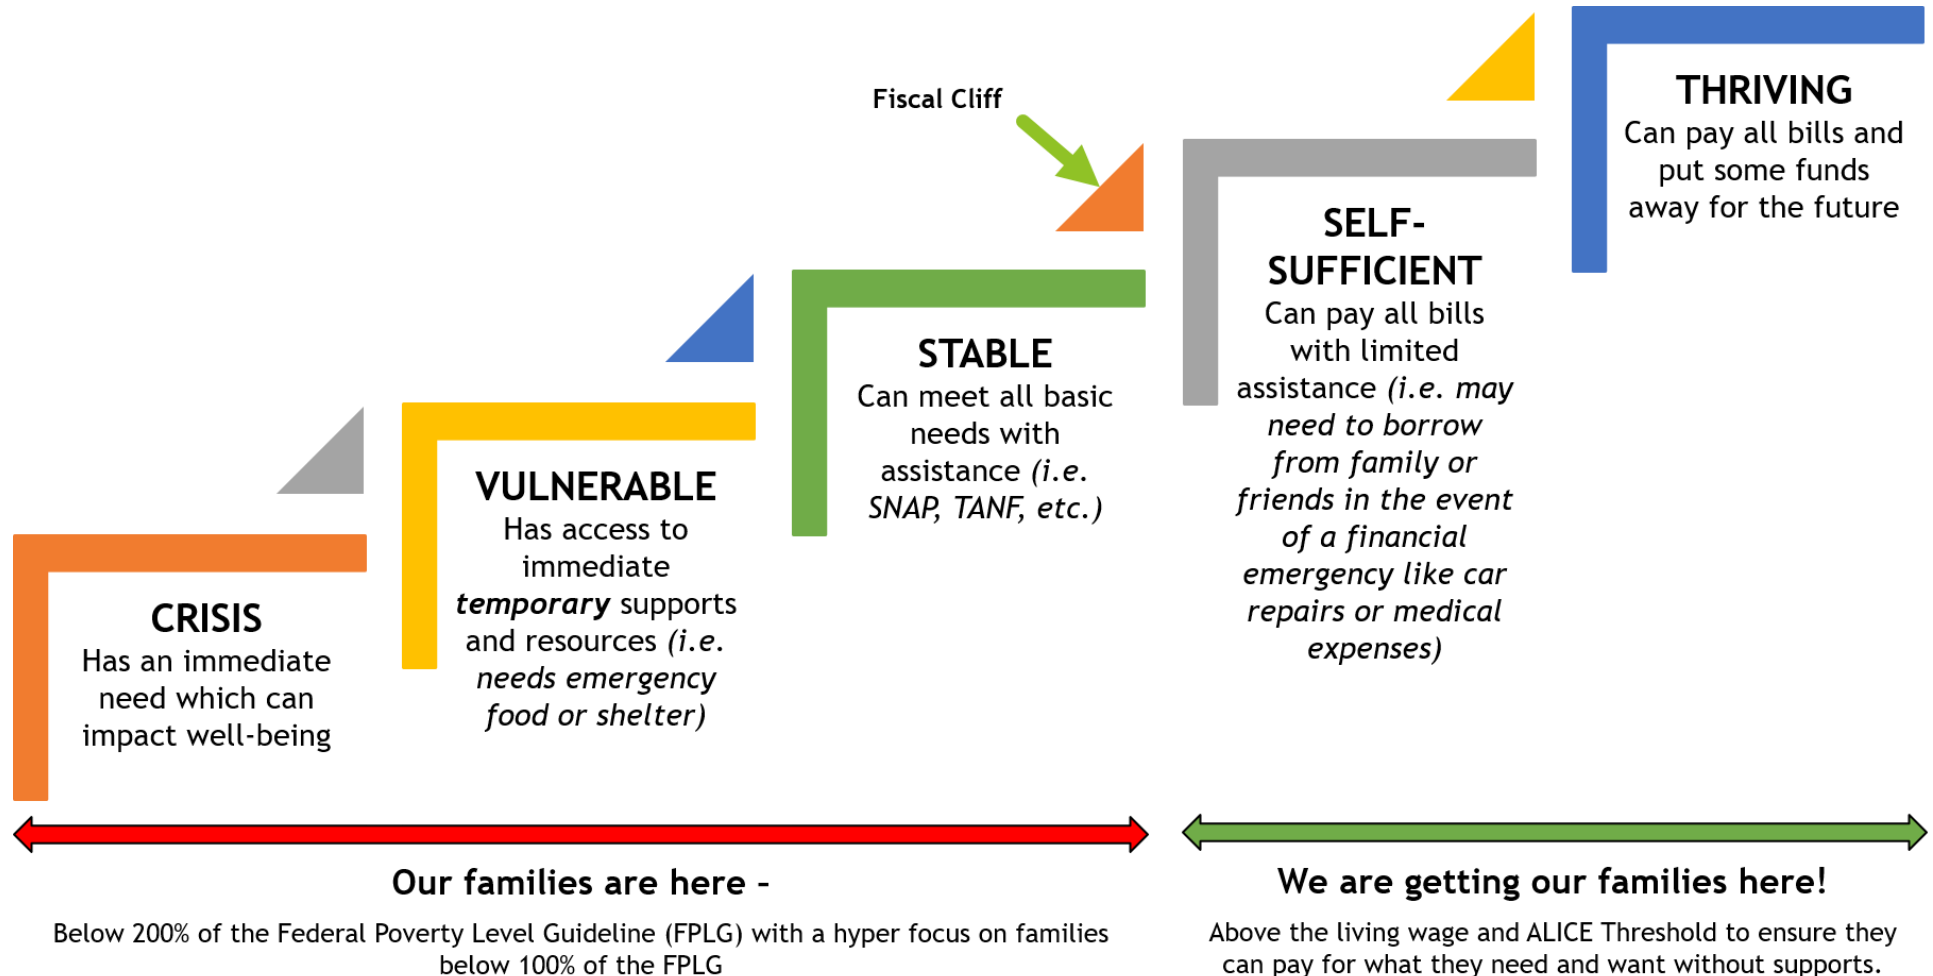

Mobility

- Seeks to build or create pathways for economic mobility for families with children ages 0-17 who are living below 50% of the Area Median Income (AMI) with a special emphasis on families that are 30% of AMI. This program is designed to remove barriers families have to gaining willful employment that will pay for what they need and want. The Self-Sufficiency category maintains the same goal as SOFI, however, the program is designed to support households without children
