This training is an equity, diversity, and inclusion topic

Description:

Culture is interwoven in many aspects of an individual's life and influences their everyday interactions. However, when an individual is introduced to a new culture they are faced with changes and challenges that are further multiplied within a family system. This presentation will provide an overview of the acculturation process and the impact of acculturation gaps that occur within families.

Learning Objectives:

After completion of this presentation, participants will be able to name the following:

- 1) Define Acculturation, Acculturative Stress, and Acculturation Gap
- 2) Identify Acculturation conflicts in families
- 3) Identify how families resolve conflict from acculturation gaps

Presenter:

Yadira Diaz Romero, MS, earned her bachelor's degree in Psychology at Indiana State University (ISU) and her master's degree in Clinical Psychology at Eastern Kentucky University (EKU). She is currently obtaining her doctorate degree in Clinical Psychology from EKU. Yadira has gained experience working with several community-based agencies, providing bilingual (English/Spanish) services to children, adolescents, adults, and families in Lexington and Richmond, Kentucky. Yadira is currently a doctoral intern with the Palm Beach County Youth Services Department, where she provides therapy services, psychological evaluations, and outreach training for youth, families, and the community.
