Description:

This presentation will provide a general overview and introduction to the behavioral science principles at work in challenging behaviors of children and adolescents (e.g., tantrums, elopement, aggression, etc.). Topics that will be covered include functions of behavior, role of assessment in positive behavior supports/interventions, and best practices in adult-child interactions.

Learning Objectives:

1. List two or more functions of behavior
2. Describe the relationship between reinforcement and future probability of a behavior
3. Identify at least one evidence-based antecedent strategy and one evidence-based consequence to promote positive behavior in youth

Presenter:

Marcela A. Galicia, Ph.D., NCSP is a licensed psychologist who specializes in behavioral pediatric psychology supporting typically developing and neurodiverse children, including children with autism, ADHD, language delays and intellectual disabilities. She provides therapy and behavioral parent training in English and Spanish. Dr. Galicia received her doctoral degree from the University of South Florida in Tampa. She completed her doctoral internship in clinical and pediatric psychology at the University of Miami Mailman Center for Child Development and did a postdoctoral fellowship in behavioral pediatrics at Johns Hopkins University/Kennedy Krieger Institute in Maryland.

Dr. Galicia has specialty training in positive behavioral supports, as well as decreasing anxiety and mild-to-moderate externalizing behavior concerns, including temper tantrums, non-compliance, elopement, toileting difficulties, physical aggression, and sleep difficulties.
