Summer Food Service Program SPIKE Event

Youth Services, in partnership with the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, hosted a SPIKE event on Thursday, July 13, at the Westgate Park and Recreation Center.

This event celebrated the healthy, free meals and snacks available to youth in Palm Beach County during the summer months. The Summer Food Services Program (SFSP), administered and monitored by Youth Services and funded by the USDA, provides free, nutritious meals and snacks for children in low-income areas. This helps ensure children receive the nutrition they need to learn, play and grow throughout the summer months when they are out of school.

“Summer meals are essential in this county,” said Youth Services Director Tammy K. Fields. “Good nutrition is imperative for our youth to grow, learn and develop. This need does not go away when the school year ends.”

School-age children may receive free meals and snacks through SFSP. Meals and snacks are also available to persons, over age 18, who participate in school programs for people who have mental or physical disabilities. There are 73 SFSP sites throughout Palm Beach County providing free meals.

“The first wealth is health.”

“Children can experience learning losses when they do not engage in educational activities during the summer months,” said Geeta Loach-Jacobson, director of Youth

Services’ Outreach and Community Programming Division. “The spelling bee is one way that we can prevent summer slide for our campers using a fun and exciting method of learning.”

Participating agencies included the Palm Beach County Attorney’s Office, PBC Community Services, PBC Parks and Recreation, Palm Beach County School District, Children’s Services Council, City of West Palm Beach, Literacy Coalition, United Way of Palm Beach County, Florida Atlantic University, Prime Time Palm Beach County, Early Learning Coalition, Palm Beach Post and Florida Power and Light.

Youth Services at the Special Needs Hurricane Shelter

Tammy Fields, Youth Services Department Director and Special Needs Shelter Manager, coordinated efforts at the South Florida Fairgrounds in preparation for the arrival of Hurricane Irma in September.

Youth Services staff assisted with set-up, registration, check-in, assisting clients, serving food, making arrangements for clients to go home, as well as break down. Youth Services' mental health team provided crisis intervention and counseling services. Staff collaborated with doctors and nurses, with the goal of providing a safe shelter environment for geriatric, adult, and youth occupants, as well as staff and volunteers.

"We truly have a very special and dedicated staff. I watched so many of you as you interacted with citizens with care and compassion ... I couldn't be more proud to be the Director of YSD," said Youth Services Director and Special Needs Shelter Manager Tammy Fields in an email to the staff after the hurricane.

"My wife and I just returned Wednesday from the special needs evacuation center at the South Florida Fairgrounds. We felt that we must comment about the wonderful volunteers who took care of us there. They were most helpful in addressing any of our needs with courtesy and interest in making our stay as comfortable as possible while taking care of more than 500 people requiring special attention of various kinds.

Q&A with Carmen Bersch

At YSD, we view our employees as one of our biggest strengths. This quarter, we're featuring Administrative Assistant Carmen Bersch. Carmen is responsible for secretarial work, providing support to the Director of the Youth Services Department, scheduling appointments, reserving and setting up conference rooms for meetings, keeping an up-to-date filing system, and interacting with other County departments, outside agencies and the public.

1. Where is your hometown?

Fajardo, Puerto Rico

2. What was your first job?

I was 16 years old. I worked at Westchester Square Hospital in New York where my mom worked as a nurse. I had to fold patients' sheets, towels, gowns, etc., in the laundry room downstairs in the hospital's basement. It was by the morgue and I would be so scared when the funeral guy would come to collect dead bodies.

3. What are the three most important skills your need for your job?

The Director's calendar must be kept up to date constantly, multi-tasking and organizing meetings.

4. What is your favorite thing about your job at YSD?
I like my co-workers. There is excellent team work.

5. Is there a memorable moment that you would like to share in relation to your work here, at YSD?
When I started working at the Youth Services Department, I never dreamed this Department would have so many wonderful programs to help our youth in Palm Beach County, and that Youth Services is affiliated and working together with other agencies to support and help achieve a better future for our youth. It is amazing, and there is still so much more to be done.

6. What hobbies and interests do you have outside of work?

I like to read, be on Facebook, and when I can, I like Jazzercise and water aerobics.

7. What is the most important lesson you've learned in the last year?

There are so many people that are in a worse situation than where we stand, and sometimes we tend to forget this and feel sorry for ourselves. There is so much to give, and it is very rewarding when you do.

8. Where would you like to go on a dream vacation?

Portugal where my grandmother was from.

9. What is your favorite quote?

Unity is strength... when there is teamwork and collaboration, wonderful things can be achieved."
-Mattie Stepanek

10. Who or what inspires you?

When I read the scriptures, it soothes my anxieties, and helps me be a better person.

11. Is there something about you that your fellow coworkers would be surprised to know?

I wanted to be an airline stewardess when I was growing up, and travel all over the world. Needless to say, never became an airline stewardess, and have not been anywhere.

"Unity is strength ... when there is teamwork and collaboration, wonderful things can be achieved."

- Mattie Stepanek
